

Handprint Art

This idea is based on the children using hand art to spread love/ cheer to a family member (grandparents/ special person) that they cannot see as much as they would like due to circumstances at present. Children could do this any way they see fit. Perhaps glitter/ buttons/ paint/ chalk- whatever you have available at home.

Normally, this time of year we hold our annual Grandparents tea-party in school. We are aware that for many of us, we are not getting to visit our Grandparents at the moment and miss them very much.

We thought to mark the occasion you could not only do your own handprint art, but might like to do your grandparents hands too! Perhaps they could send you a digital picture of their handprint or you could even ask them to post one to you that they have drawn round on paper. Leave it to quarantine and then decorate away along with your own handprint.

You might even decide to hold your own virtual tea-party with Grandparents one afternoon!

Home Schooling Art Day

Today is Art DAY!

Here are some ideas you might like to today. Remember these are just starting points. You can adapt these in any way you like.

Recreate famous art with your laundry!

Take inspiration from famous art work. Can you use your clothes to recreate some well-known paintings?

Sketch an eye self portrait.

Can you draw a picture of your eye?

Add personal details and patterns around it.

You could draw things that represent you? This could be snapshots of your personality—your interest, you achievements your favourite things.

We would love to make a display back in school of your art work. Please do send in copies of your creations through your class email address, so we can print and make our own joint masterpiece.
