What's?
The tall, wind trees
Shady grove in the cool forest. That is where courageous people that slide across the crystal blue sky.
What are they doing?
The brown, twisted vines.

KING JAMES

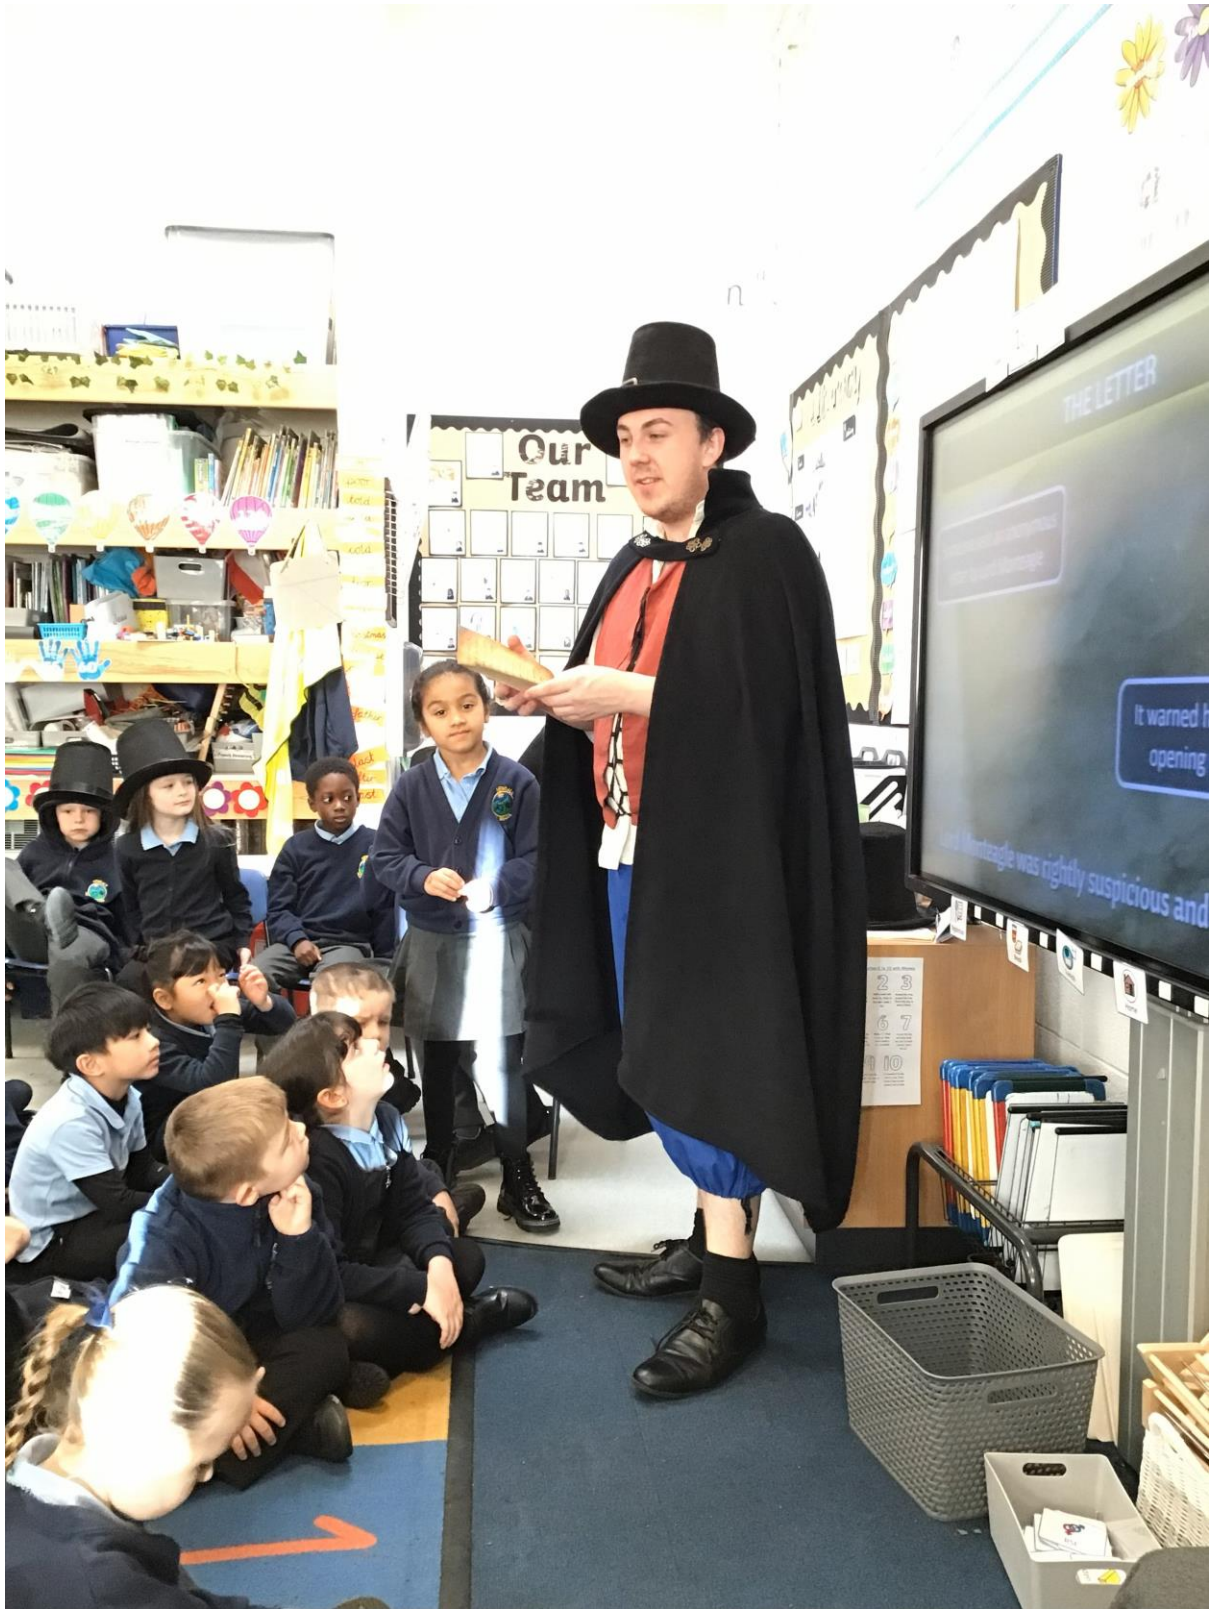

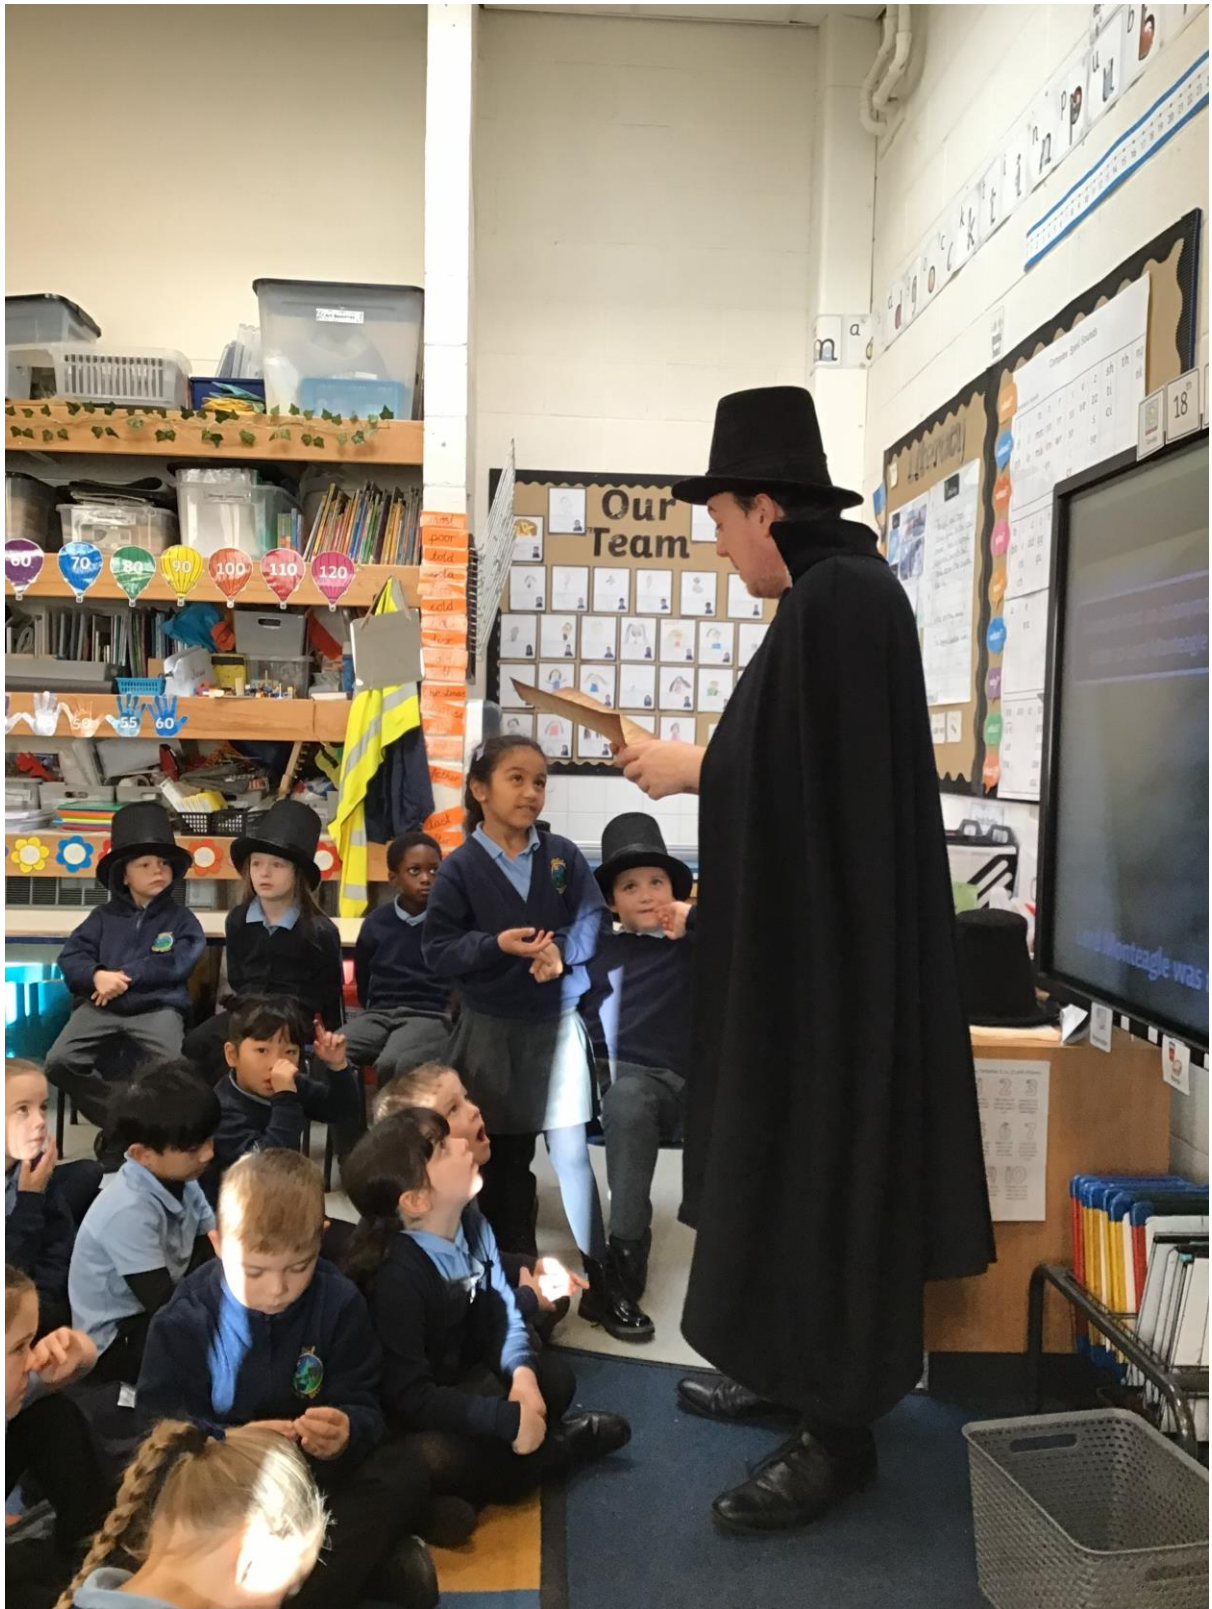

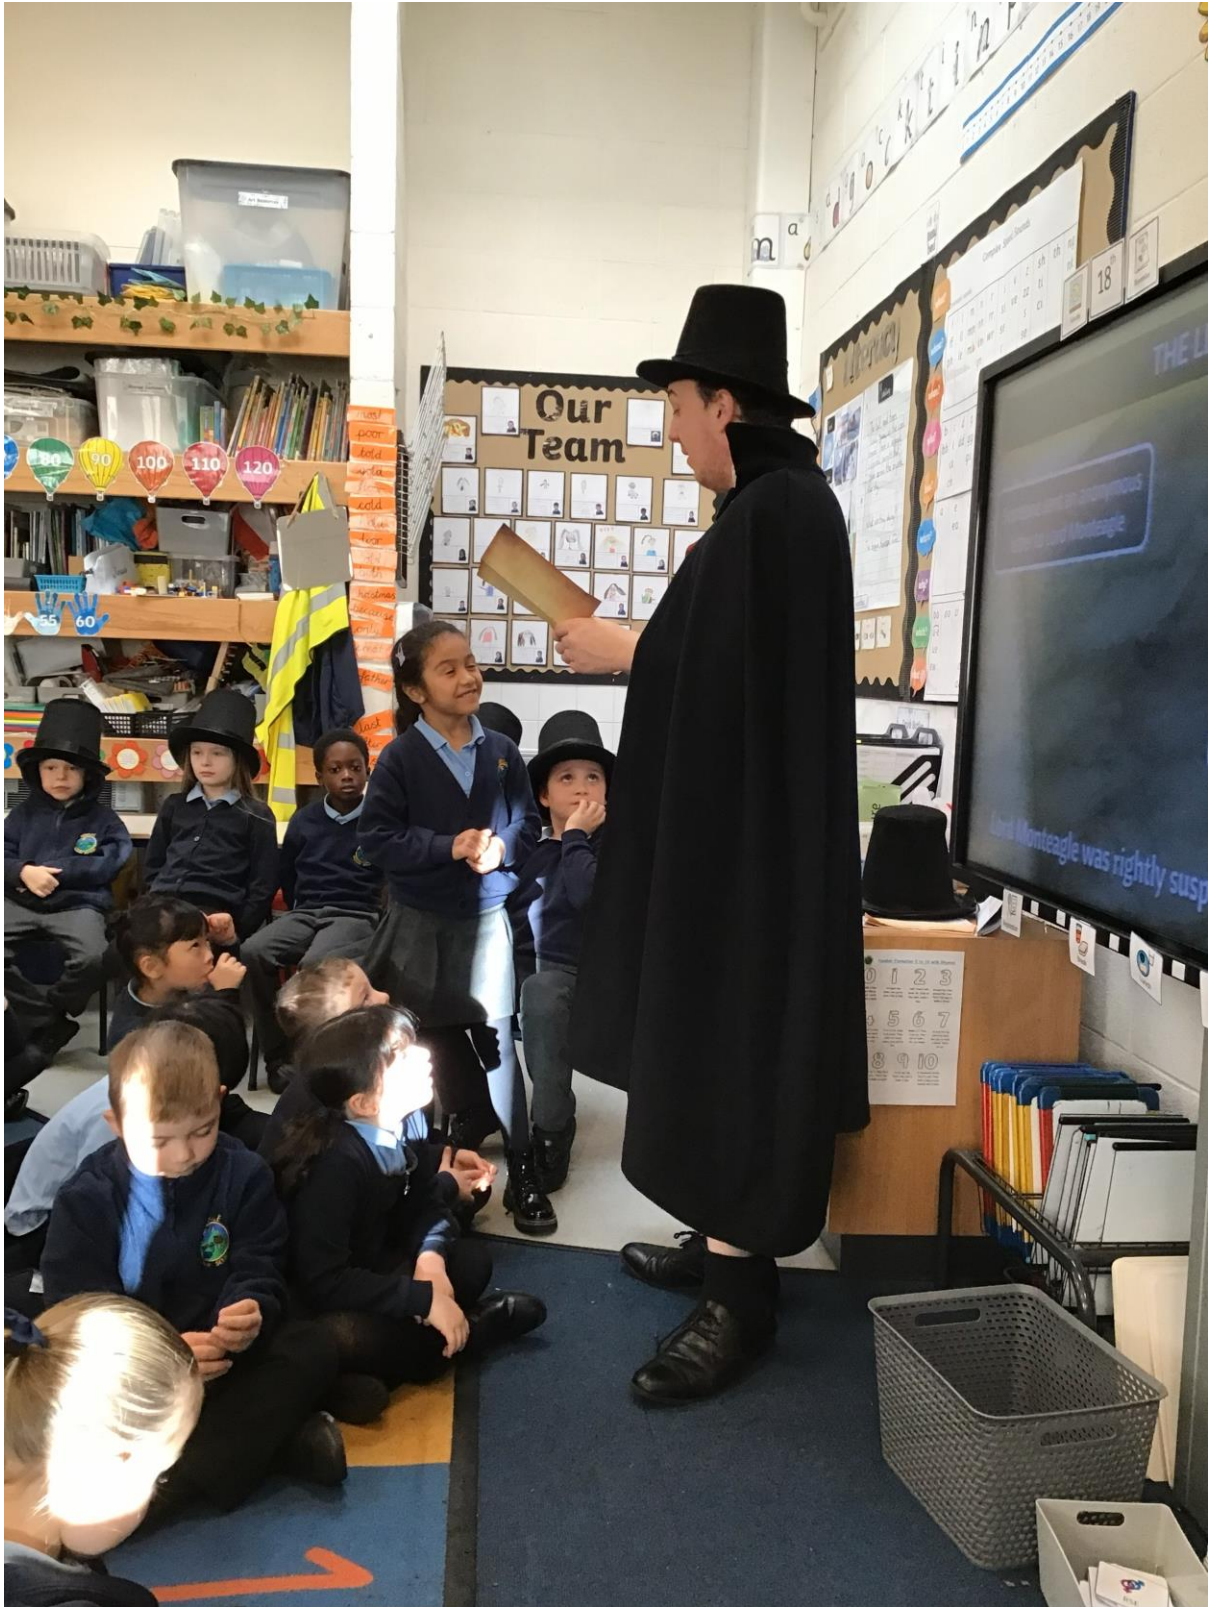

Children,

I need you to trust me. I need to also tell you a secret. A secret that could put my very life in danger! I will arrive shortly and tell you of a dangerous plan to free us from the dangers of our current ruler. We will be free to follow our own religion and life will forever change for the better in England. I need to know that I can trust you. I will ask you what the weather's like today. You must say "It looks like there's a storm brewing". That way I will know you are friends of the conspirators.

I look forward to our secret meeting shortly,

Guy Fawkes
